What is the intended benefit of the rule?

Chapter 220 describes the Department’s interpretation of the underlying statute to help the public understand exemptions that primarily benefit consumers, Chapter 216 describes the Department’s interpretation of exemptions relating to events and amusements. These rules reduce uncertainty about what is subject to tax and what is exempt.

Is the benefit being achieved? Please provide evidence.

To the extent rules are being rescinded, the Department determined the rule was unnecessary or obsolete. To the extent the Department proposes to re-promulgate rules, the Department has determined that the rules aid the public in better understanding the taxation of the covered items and the limitations of exemptions. The evidence for the benefit of the rules is demonstrated from the text of the rules themselves and the greater certainty they provide taxpayers.

What are the costs incurred by the public to comply with the rule?

There is no cost to comply with the rules. Any costs to comply with the exemptions are associated with the underlying statute.

What are the costs to the agency or any other agency to implement/enforce the rule?

There are no costs to the agency of implementing the rules beyond those that would otherwise be required to administer the statute. There are tax administration expenses associated with administering any tax statute, including return processing and enforcement program work.

Do the costs justify the benefits achieved? Please explain.

There are no costs of the rules themselves. The cost of inaction would be confusion about the applicability of the described exemptions.

Are there less restrictive alternatives to accomplish the benefit?  YES  NO

If YES, please list alternative(s) and provide analysis of less restrictive alternatives from other states, if applicable. If NO, please explain.

The rules have been revised where possible to rescind statutory text or obsolete language. The rules that will be re-promulgated have been determined to be necessary and reworded to provide clarity. The rules do not impose restrictions on taxpayers that are not required by the statute.

Does this chapter/rule(s) contain language that is obsolete, outdated, inconsistent, redundant, or un-necessary language, including instances where rule language is duplicative of statutory language? [list chapter/rule number(s) that fall under any of the above categories]
